Gen. Chaffee Is to Be Assistant to the Chief of Staff Until the Retirement of Gen. Young, When He Will Be Promoted to the Rank of Lieutenant-General.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Announcement was made this afternoon at the War Department that Major-Gen. Henry C. Corbin, Adjutant-General and assistant to the Chief of Staff, has been assigned to the command of the Department of the East to relieve Major-Gen. Adna R. Chaffee, who is ordered to duty in the War Department as assistant to Lieut.-Gen. Young.

The news of the transfer was a complete surprise to the officers of the army on duty in the War Department. It had been in contemplation, however, for several weeks, and was finally determined upon last night, the information having reached Acting Secretary Oliver that Gen. Corbin would be satisfied with the order. Gen. Corbin has been absent from the War Department for several weeks on an inspection tour of the army posts of the West. It was learned to-day that he would reach Washington this afternoon, and at a conference between Gen. Young and Secretary Oliver it was decided to make the announcement at once.

The purpose of the change, as stated in the official announcement, is to give Gen. Chaffee an opportunity to familiarize himself with the workings of the General Staff and to ascertain the present condition of the military establishment before he succeeds Gen. Young as Chief of Staff. It is intended "as a recognition of the eminent services rendered by Gen. Corbin in the important office of Adjutant-General during the war with Spain and the subsequent operations in China and the Philippine Islands, and is made with a view to obtain the benefit of his great administrative and executive ability in the command of the largest and most important military department in the United States."
The promotion of Gen. Chaffee to be Lieutenant-General and Chief of Staff was decided upon some time ago, and upon the retirement of Gen. Young in January next Gen. Chaffee will become the new Chief of Staff. He will continue at the head of the General Staff until April 14, 1906, when he, too, will retire. The question of a successor to Gen. Chaffee has already been considered by the President and was over before Secretary Root went Gen. Corbin will retire in September

Gen. Corbin will retire in September, 1906, and the present plan contemplates his continuing in command of the Department of the East until Gen. Carter, who is known as the advocate of the General Staff system, and Brig. Gen. Leonard Wood, now in command of the military forces in Mindanao. Secretary Root is known to favor the selection of Gen. Carter, while the President feels that if a young officer is to be named Gen. Wood, whose promotion to Major-General makes him senior to Gen. Carter, should be selected. Secretary Root's Inshould be selected. Secretary Root's in-dorsement of Gen. Carter is lased upon dorsement of Gen. Carter is lased upon that officer's services in assisting him in the preparation of the General Staff scheme, and particularly because of his general knowledge of military matters.

According to the officers of the War Department there is no doubt that if President Roosevelt is elected in 1904 he will name Gen. Corbin to succeed Gen. Chaffee. In the meantime, the friends of Gen. Carter and Gen. Wood will use their best efforts of the services of these officers. Gen. Carter applied some months ago for service in the Philippines, as did Gen. Wood. Secretary Root felt that he could not spare Gen. Carter from When the question of appointment comes up, however, both officers will have had active service in the Philippines, and there will be a interesting contest between them

The assignment of Gen. Corbin to com-mand the Department of the East will not, it is explained at the War Department, interfere with his rank of Major-Goneral and Adjutant-General. Before making the change the law officers of the War Department were consulted, and a number of prece ment were consulted, and a number of precedents for assigning staff officers to outside duty were found. Gen. Corbin will therefore continue to be the Adjutant-General of the army, but on detached service. During the time that he will be in command of the Department of the East Col. Gen. Chaffee said at Governors Island yesterday that he had talked with Gen. oung at a dinner here about a month ago in regard to his, Gen. Chaffee's, transfer to Vashington.

Gen. Chaffee, who finished a strenuous game of golf before dinner last evening, expressed a fondness for outdoor life, but was non-committal on the question whether he would or would not like confining office work. He remarked that there were also golf links at Chevy Chase, Washington. He said that he had expected to leave vernors Island on Nov. 1, to take the place of Gen. Corbin and familiarize him-self with the duties of his office as assistant to Gen. Young, but that he might go sooner. He referred to himself and Gen. Corbin as "young and active men," and he certainly

The assignment of a member of the Adjutant-General's Department to the command of troops," he said, "has precedents, I think, in history. Gen. Jessup, during the Indian troubles in Florida, was, if my memory is right, given command of troops while he was in the Adjutant-General's office. Gen. Thomas too, while General's office. Gen. Thomas, too, while he was in the Adjutant-General's office was assigned to the command of colored troops in the West."

CABINET MEETING. Only Two Members Present-The Postal Scandals Discussed.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2 .- At the Cabinet meeting this morning only Postmaster-General Payne and Secretary Wilson were with the President. There was a discussion of routine matters and the postal scandals were considered at some length.

The only matter made public was a statement that the franking privilege which has been enjoyed by Porto Rico officers in common with other territorial authorities shall no longer be permitted, as Porto Rico is not a ferritory of the Union. The franking privilege was recently taken from officers of the District of Columbia for the same

THE MONOCACY SOLD.

Our Old Side-Wheel Gunboat Purchased by a Japanese for $11.825.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2 .- The Navy Department was informed this morning of the sale by Rear Admiral Evans of the old Monocacy, which has been on the Asiatic station since 1869. The Monocacy was a side-wheel gunboat of 1,370 tons displacement and was built with an iron hull. She has been for sale for some time and Admiral Evans cabled this morning that he had accepted a Japanese offer of $11,325 for the slip. This is a much larger amount than it was hoped to realize. It will be paid in gold and one of the oldest ships of the navy will pass into foreign hands.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.-The State Department to-day received a cable despatch from Ambassador Choate at London informing the Department that he conveyed the following expression to Lord Lans-

"Since my note of yesterday I have heard from the President and the Secretary of State, who desire me to express to you their great personal grief for the loss of Sir Michael Herbert. For many years they have both enjoyed his close and intimate ritendship and fully appreciated and admired his great sbilities, his exalted character and his charming personal qualities, which made him very dear to them, so that the wholly unexpected tidings of his death came as a great shock to them.

They know that his brief official career had been marked by great service to both countries in promoting amicable relations between them, and I am to assure you of their great disappointment and that of the people of the United States at its sad and sudden termination."

Ambassador Choate adds that he reeived the following reply from Lord Lans

"I am greatly obliged for your second letter as to Sir Michael Herbert's lamented death. The sympathy of the President and of the Secretary of State are at such a moment precious in the eyes not only of Herbert's many admirers, but of all who desire that those amiable relations which he did so much to promote should subsist between our two countries. I will ask you to be so good as to convey to the President and to Mr. Hay, on behalf of His Majesty's Government, our cordial thanks for their appreciation of Herbert's character and public services and of the loss which his country has sustained."

years' imprisonment, the sentence has been approved by the President. The sentence of dismissal and imprisonment of one year imposed by a court-martial upon Lieut. Rucker of the Philippine scouts, because he could not account for the disappearance of money intrusted to his care, has also been approved. Executive clemency was asked for in the case of Lieut. Hamilton Foley of the Fifth Cavalry, whose trouble was due to non-payment of debts, but as the sentence was only dismissal from the service, President Roosevelt allowed it to stand.

In the case of Lieut, Louis McL. Hamilton, Fourteenth Infantry, who became intoxicated and addressed remarks to his senior officers which called for his trial on a charge of conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman, the President decided that if Lieut. Hamilton made a public apology for his conduct, the sentence of dismissa from the army would be remitted, and the officer would be further punished by a loss of 116 files in rank.

The President has deferred consideration of the case of Lieut. Knute Knudson, until he can hear Senator Spoener in the officer's behalf. Lieut. Knudson was implicated in certain irregularities of commissary and other accounts while on dety in Alaska.

A very entertaining volume has been written on "Famous Hymns and Their Count Falcon not a collection of hymns, but a chatty account of the persons who have written them, and is limited chiefly to British writers of more modern times. A great deal of pleasant and interesting information is offered which it would be hard to find elsewhere and is put in very readable form.

Constant vigilance is needed to keep up the high reputation of the Baedeker guides, and the result is new and up to date editions. We have received from Charles Scribner's Sons the eighth edition of "Norway, Sweden and Denmark" and note the time table and description of the Gellivara-Nanvik Railroad, the most northern railroad in the world, which was opened only last summer. With it comes the most famous of all Baedekers, "Switzerland," now in its twentieth English edition.

The handy little volumes of J. M. Deni & Co.'s "Temple Classics" are a delight to the eye, as every one knows. The often quoted and amusing seventeenth century letters, "Familiar Letters or Epistolæ Ho-Elianæ," by James Howell, now come to us in three volumes of this edition from Messrs. Macmillan. May Promote Other Pension Clerks Who Are Seldom Absent From Their Desks. WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.-Commissioner of Pensions Ware, who has returned to Washington from another vacation, is contemplating further promotions in line with that of the immortal Wiggins, who was jumped over the heads of a whole division of clerks because he had not been absent from his desk on sick leave one day in five years and had during the same interval regularly foregone his annual vacation. In a statement posted on the Pension Office bulletin board at the time, Mr. Ware patted Mr. Wiggins on the back and raised his salary several hundred dollars a year. A number of clerks in the Pension Office
